A HUNDRED COMPUTER MONITORS ON YOUR DESK...

Idyle Software has released version 2.0 of Desks At Will, a Windows program that lets users take full advantage of multiple Windows desktops on a single computer.

Desks At Will enhances your Windows experience by providing multiple desktops. With a single keystroke, you will change your seriously burdened work environment into an empty flashy gaming desktop. The program also helps you organize your virtual desks by automatically moving applications to the desktop they belong to. Minimizing, maximizing and shuffling through windows, fighting your way to that icon on the desktop: these are all the chores you will certainly not miss when using Desks At Will.

Designed to work on Windows 95, 98 and NT 4.0, Desks At Will supports an unlimited number of virtual desks. Each desktop may have its own color and font scheme, screen resolution, icon layout and background wallpaper. Passwords can be applied to virtual desks so nobody accesses them while you're out taking a cup of coffee.

Desks At Will costs $22.50 (US) for a single-user license. Site and world licenses are available. For more information and online ordering, visit Idyle Software's web site at <http://www.idyle.com> or by e-mail at info@idyle.com.
